14/04/2023

Dear all

In this week's digest:

- Professor Anne Poelina has been confirmed as a plenary speaker for MODSIM2023 – Professor Poelina, Co-Chair of Indigenous Studies Nulungu Institute Research, University of Notre Dame PhD, PhD, MEd, MPH&TM, MA, is a Nyikina Warrwa Indigenous woman from the Kimberley region of Western Australia. She is an active community leader, human and earth rights advocate, film maker and respected academic researcher, contributing to multiple universities, national and global think tanks.

- Session proposals are being accepted for the 12th International Congress on Environmental Modelling and Software (iEMSs 2024), Addressing Global Environmental Challenges through Intelligent Modeling! to be held in East Lansing, Michigan, June 23–27, 2024. Session proposals are due by 30 April 2023 and can be submitted at https://conference.iemss.org/session-proposals/.

- The open access, community-driven journal SESMO (published by iEMSs) is embarking on a Compendium on Fundamentals of Modelling and Good Practices. It will be a series of special issues with online materials. For more information, see sesmo.org/compendium. Interested contributors please contact Serena.Hamilton@anu.edu.au

If you would like something included in this digest, please email it to office@mssanz.org.au

Kind regards, Karen