Papers are available listed by session and will also be listed under an author index soon. The book of abstracts will be published as a PDF, this should be available by mid January. Individual abstracts are still available as handouts attached to sessions in the EventsAir online portal for those who attended MODSIM2021.

If you would like something included in this digest, please email it to office@mssanz.org.au

Wishing you all a happy and safe holiday season,

Kind regards, Karen
