

Dear all

In this week's digest:

- CSIRO has a position available for a research scientist in Tasmania examining environmental causal modelling and environmental health indicators. More information and applications at: <https://jobs.csiro.au/job/Hobart%2C-TAS-Research-Scientist-in-Ecological-Causal-Modelling/921893400/>.

Thank you to all who submitted MODSIM2023 session proposals and MSSANZ Fellow nominations. The Program Committee is working on finalising the sessions so they can be published on the MODSIM2023 website next week and we will start accepting submissions of extended abstracts and full papers soon after. Details will be sent out when the online system is ready.

If you would like something included in this digest, please email it to office@mssanz.org.au

Kind regards, Karen
