

Dear all

In this week's digest:

- Today is the last day you can take advantage of the Early Bird registration price for MODSIM2023. Note also that Qantas has come on board as our exclusive airline partner.
- Another plenary speaker has been confirmed – Professor Daniel P. Ames from Brigham Young University in Utah, USA, is a Professor of Civil and Construction Engineering. His plenary will cover the topic of Forecasting flow in every river everywhere all at once: Advances in continental scale hydrologic modeling and simulation.
- We have 3 studio apartments still on offer at Charles Darwin University International House. These are available for check in on Saturday 8 July, check out on Saturday 15 July at a rate of $148.50 per night ($1039.50 for the week). <https://ihd.cdu.edu.au/guest-accommodation/>. Please email modsim2023@mssanz.org.au if you would like to secure one of these rooms. We will be organising a bus to transport people from the university to the Convention Centre each day.
- Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München in Munich, Germany, has two positions available as part of the Horizon Europe project:
 - A scientific researcher modeling forest-climate interactions in ForestNavigator
<https://job-portal.lmu.de/jobposting/a6876a83f602c8ed097a69ecc822b5b6702e5ab4>
 - A Scientific researcher modeling Earth system feedbacks in RESCUE (Response of the Earth System to overshoot, Climate neUtrality and negative Emissions)
<https://job-portal.lmu.de/jobposting/f6092e597e427ee4e3e794d8488dcae442e5aafe0>

If you would like something included in this digest, please email it to office@mssanz.org.au

Kind regards, Karen